SPEAKING OF CLEVELAND

Take a front row seat online or in-person as the Cleveland History Center presents significant stories that capture the Cleveland spirit. Speaking of Cleveland features the intriguing, curious and oft-forgotten tales from Cleveland's past. Pulled directly from the nationally-recognized collections of the Western Reserve Historical Society, these stories showcase the innovation, the grit and the pride that characterize Cleveland's past, present and future.

Our historians and museum professionals are eager to share Cleveland's stories with you. To book a Speaking of Cleveland engagement for your group or facility, please email education@wrhs.org. Programs can be delivered in-person or over a digital platform online.

SPECIALTY PROGRAMS
$250 per program + mileage (if applicable)

JOHN GRABOWSKI, PhD | Senior VP of Research & Publications

Cleveland: A to Z
Author and historian John Grabowski presents his newest book on Cleveland – a city guide focused on the people, places, and events that define our city.

Immigration and Migration to Cleveland: An Historical Overview in National and Global Context
Today, Northeast Ohio is home to over 120 ethnic groups. How did our city and region, once an outpost of New England, become a global community? This program will explore the history and traditions of Cleveland's immigrant communities.

Who Names the Neighborhood?
Cleveland’s neighborhoods have, and have had, an intriguing series of names – from Kamm’s Corners to Dutch Hill and Little Italy and now to Hingetown. Some names have been around for over a century, others are new. Who gets to choose the name – the people who live in the area, or city officialdom? This program will explore the history of Cleveland’s neighborhoods by looking at the broader story of their identities over time and the manner in which name changes have been influenced both by shifting demography, politicians, developers, and urban planners.

REGENNIA N. WILLIAMS, PhD | Distinguished Scholar of African American History and Culture

Praying Grounds: African American Faith Communities
African American faith communities have long served as influential centers of social and religious activities. In this presentation, historian and author Regennia N. Williams, PhD will discuss the evolving role of religion in Black America, based on her ongoing research for the Praying Grounds Oral History Project and her books and other publications, including “Cleveland, Ohio and Race, Religion, and Reconciliation: Academic Initiatives, Leadership Development, and Social Change.”

ERIC RIVET | Curator of Collections & Exhibits
Cleveland at War

Learn about how Cleveland’s industrial power made key contributions to both world wars. Hear the stories of prominent Clevelanders and local heroes who helped to achieve victory while seeing some of the treasures of the Western Reserve Historical Society's military collections.

A Brief History of the Western Reserve

Most people in Northeast Ohio know the term Western Reserve, but how many people really know what it means? Join Chief Curator Eric Rivet for a discussion about the fascinating history of the region and see some of the rarest treasures in the Western Reserve Historical Society’s collection: early maps of the Western Reserve.

Ohio’s Presidential Past

Ohio is sometimes called the Mother of Presidents, and it is claimed that the state has produced more U.S. Presidents than any other state. Join Chief Curator Eric Rivet to learn about the truth behind this claim and to hear stories about the men from Ohio that have held the nation's highest elected office.

Before They Were Famous: Celebrity Veterans of World War II

More than sixteen million Americans served during World War II. Most of them would return home to a normal life, but some would go on to become beloved celebrities after the war. Join Chief Curator Eric Rivet for an audience participation presentation on how some of Hollywood’s best known celebrities served their country.

A Tale of Two Torpedoes: The Sinking of the German Battleship Bismarck

The German battleship Bismarck was one of the deadliest ships afloat at the beginning of World War II. The story of the nine-day chase and destruction of the Bismarck was full of so many twists and turns that it could have been written by Hollywood. Hear the saga of the Bismarck and learn how the epic story hinged on two torpedoes, one British and one German.

The Battle of Leyte Gulf

The Battle of Leyte Gulf in October 1944 was one of the largest naval battles in history. Actually five separate battles spread around the Philippine Islands, the American victory at Leyte Gulf effectively removed the Imperial Japanese Navy as a threat in the Pacific Theater. Join Chief Curator Eric Rivet to learn about this key World War II battle.

PATRICIA EDMONSON | Museum Advisory Council Curator of Costumes & Textiles
Wow Factor: 150 Years of Collecting Bold Clothes

Clevelanders use fashion to stand out in a crowd. Share in the images and stories from our extensive costume collection to learn more about our city’s trendsetters, who they were, and where they shopped.

Tales from the Chisholm Halle Costume Wing

Patricia Edmonson, Museum Advisory Council Curator of Costumes & Textiles, will highlight her most recent exhibit curated from the incredible Chisholm Halle Costume Wing. Topics rotate; please call for more information about the current exhibit.

SEAN MARTIN, PhD | Associate Curator of Jewish History
Ethnicity & Local History

How do local groups operate within larger, national ethnic groups? How do they help us negotiate our identities as citizens? Explore the variety of ethnic communities to which we belong and the local groups in which we live.

ANN SINDELAR | Research Library Reference Supervisor

JOHN FRATO | Euclid Beach Park Grand Carousel
Training & Volunteer Coordinator

Euclid Beach Park’s Grand Carousel

This is the story of the Euclid Beach Park Grand Carousel: its years at the park, its operation in Maine, and its journey back home to Cleveland. John Frato will recall the challenges encountered in the project to restore the 1910 carousel to full operation and tell the stories of carousel memories old and new.

The Story of Euclid Beach Park

Food, rides, and attractions. Why is Euclid Beach Park so very memorable? Learn about its beginnings in 1895 and reminisce about its heyday, as well as its final days in 1969. Relive those special memories that Euclid Beach Park holds for Clevelanders.

PAMELA DORAZIO-DEAN | Associate Curator of Italian History

Italian-American Life in Cleveland

Today, Cleveland is home to a vibrant Italian-American community that has grown over decades of immigration. Explore Italian immigration to the city from the late 19th Century through the present day, with a focus on life in the Italian neighborhoods.

WHITNEY STALNAKER | Public Programs Manager

Built for Good: Cleveland State Hospital

Built with good intentions, Cleveland State Hospital’s patient practices quickly took a turn. How did a hospital built on progressive principles of compassionate care devolve into a national symbol of neglect and abuse? Drawn from manuscripts of investigative reporters sent to expose the hospital’s practices, this program will discuss the state of mental healthcare in 1950s Cleveland and the community’s efforts to keep up with the changing trends in the mental health field.

CLEVELAND HISTORY FAVORITES

$130 per program + mileage (if applicable)

Battle for the Ballot: Cleveland’s Suffragist Movement

There is no complete record of the brave, often unnamed women who fought for their right to vote and finally triumphed in 1920. Learn about a band of women who dedicated themselves to the public interest and grew into an organization that won the respect and confidence of the nation. This program will tell the story behind the Cleveland women who advocated for suffrage and went on to help establish the League of Women Voters.

Eliot Ness & the Torso Murders

While acting as Cleveland’s Safety Director, Eliot Ness made great improvements in our infrastructure that created a lasting legacy for the city. However, in these same years, Ness would come head-to-head with a series of heinous crimes – the Torso Murders. Explore the famous case that is still considered unsolved to this day, and learn about the Cleveland of Eliot Ness.

The Golden Age of Shopping

Explore the heyday of Cleveland’s most glamorous department stores. From small grocers to giant palaces, companies like Higbee’s, the May Company, and Halle Brothers grew with the city and came to define Cleveland fashion and shopping for decades.

Stories from Millionaires’ Row

Declared “the most beautiful street in America,” Euclid Avenue was once home to powerful families who not only shaped Cleveland, but national politics and industry, as well. Hear their stories as you take a walk down Euclid Avenue in the 19th Century and learn about the beautiful art and architecture of their homes.

Car Capitol of the World

At one time, Cleveland was the automobile capitol of the world. Take a ride through the Western Reserve at the turn of the 20th Century and discover a treasure of Cleveland-made vehicles.
